TELEPHONE No. 12

Hongkong, November 29rs, 1888.

Ar the meeting of the Sanitary Board th afternoon Mr. EDE will bring forward the question of over-crowding. Subsection 1 of section 13 of the Public Health Bill gives the Board power to make by-laws for "the prevention of over-crowding in premises. either in respect of human beings or the of his intention to move that a Committee ! appointed to draw up by-laws on this subject -with reference principally to human beings, we presume—and that a report on overcrowding be prepared. This looks rather like placing-the cart before the horse; the drafting of the by-laws will properly come after the presentation of the report showing the nature and extent of the evil that has to be dealt with. Section 67 of the Ordinance provides that "Every domestic building or portion thereof found to be inhabited in excens of a proportion of one adult to every three hundred cubic feet of clear internal space shall be considered to be in an over -crowded condition and shall be deemed a nuisance. This section shall apply only such districts, or portions of districts, as may from time to time be designated by an Order the Bill was before the Legislative Council this was one of the most warmly debated clauses, and the Government was urged, but without success, to reduce the space requirement to 200 or 250 feet. There are a vory (or two children) to every 300 feet of cubic space. It was stated on behalf of the Go. with them a matter to be decided afterwards. vernment that it was not the intention to drive the excess from their homes throughout the Colony at one and the same time, but way Bay ground, under Association rules, toto proceed by districts, by which it was hoped the inconvenience and hardship of the measure would be minimised. So far the law the P. & O. steamer Venetia, from Bombay, left has not been set in motion on this subject, and the matter has now been taken up, not by the Government, but by an unofficial member of the Sanitary Board. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. EDE has to say in support of his proposal. That over-crowding is an evil is indisputable, but it is not al- terday for this port. ways possible to remedy evils by legislative interference, and sometimes where the attempt is made it is attended by even greater drainage system, Mr. Cooper, the Sanitary Surveyor, mentions that in the month of March of this year the Registrar-General caused a census to be taken in three districts of the western part of the city, of the respective areas of 13, 7.71, and 3.52 acres, including streets, with the result that an average population was found of 1,077 1,602, and 488 persons to the acre in the three districts respectively. Mr. Cooper doubts if this density of population is reached in any city or town of the United the effect of overcrowding on the health of The steamer Kaisow, which left for London o the population of Victoria the fact must 28th November with a full cargo, has shut out lost eight of that the city is limited width, occupying only B narrow strip of ground, with an ex- rival at Foochow, so far as immunity from cortensive harbour on its northern and a con siderable open space on its southern side. To this it may be added that the houses are the back of Mr. Siemssen's garden the corpse more open to the ingress of air than the the summer a large proportion of the popuation elsep in the street. Still, making all deductions, it must be admitted that overcrowding exists to an extent involving some degree of danger to health. Then comes the question, how is the population in excess of the present house accommodation of the colony on the scale of 300 feet to each adult inhabitant to be provided for. Before this question can be satisfactorily consias approximately as the circumstances friend had sent. Immediately on the door being and who once more, on a later occasion, allowed admit of, the measure of that excess. Mr. Cooper, in his report referred to above, place of all the valuables they could lay their just a grain of fear, was bestowed by the childspeaks of 1,077, 1,602, and 488 persons to hands on. One of the men had threatened her ren on the wonderful invention of the transvay, the acre being a density of population not with a murderous weapon like a large knife, and a delightful afternoon was spent in the pure reached in any city or town of the United was remanded for further enquiries.

In his recent report on the proposed new

Kingdom or Europe how much more so much land this showing a very monthingable portion of the population of some districts would have to be turned out their houses. This, of couse, is out of the question, for the people must live some where, even if to secure a living place they have to submit to the evils of overcrowding To apply the provisions of the Ordinance to one district at a time would only mean, we fear, the greater overcrowding of the already overgrowded districts not under proclamation, unless the Government is prepared with some scheme to attract population to the Eastern district. The provision of easy communication would be essential to the success of any such scheme, but as the laying of a tramway must necessarily be postponed until the completion of the Prava extension, it would seem that the time for action in respect of overcrowding is hardly ripe yet. We admit the existence of the evil, but question the ability of the Government or the Sanitary Board-to remedy it under existing conditions. Mr. EDE will, however, render good service by the action be is taking if he accures a thoroughly exhaustive report on the subject, so that it can be studied intelligently. This will prepare the way for effective action when the time arrives.

Mr. EDE has given notice the Royalists are amongst his supporters. their object being to bring about a crisis, in which they may be able to part company with him and make a stroke for power on their own account. The Paris correspondent of the Times says :- " His supporters do not ask him for any plan, but merely for victory. It is immaterial to them whether he burns coal or wood in his kitchen, provided the dinner is served up and they can sit down to it. What annovs them is to see others seated at it. In the last report from the British Consular. Agent at Sandakan, the capital of British North Borneo, says the Times, reference is made to the planting of tobacco in this new territory. The cultivation of "wrap" tobacco has proved exceedingly lucrative in Sumatra, where some of the leading companies pay dividends of over 100 per cent, and in one case 152 per cent was paid in 1886. This tobacco combines quality with elasticity and extreme thinness, so that the leaf covers a large number of cigars. The value attached to it may be judged from the fact that while the price of ordinary amoking tobacco is about 5d. per lb., wholesale and in bond "wrap" fetches from 2s, 6d. to 3s. 6d On the other hand, the cultivation is attended by nausual risks and very heavy expense, and it was long thought that the peculiar conjunction of soil and climate necessary for its production was confined to Sumatra. But experiments have shown that it can also be grown in British North Borneo. Samples from there were highly recommended at the Colonial and Indian Exhibi- Boulangist and Republican. tion, and suitable land for the purpose is being caperly taken up, chiefly by Dutch planters. Most of the capital employed and of the Europroduction of "wrap" tobacco has been almost entirely a Dutch industry carried on in Dutch colonies. One of the principal reasons for the Dutch purchasing tobacco lands outside their own colonies is the very heavy taxation to which they are subjected by their own Government. In Java the planter has to pay Royal on Tuesday night, Mr. Willard's Comcoolie poll-taxes, a licence tax, high railway in France have caused very serious animosity | charges, export and many other dues, and in addition has to pay yearly a tax on his land which between parties, especially the Boulangist would buy it outright in a 999 years' lease in bian Nights." Hence the Dutch are not only prospecting the country for tobacco. but also for sugar, coffee, and other cultivation.

Mr. Forwood, Secretary to the Admiralty, inwhich may be read with interest in connection with the delay which has occurred in sending out the guns for the forts of this colony and Singapore. The guns, as fast as they were ready, must be running very high to have led have had to wait. Mr. Forwood said:-The manufacture of big gans could not be effective under two or somotimes even three years. In years t may be, though we hope not, that the past a cheeseparing policy had reduced the in it deserving of notice, the piece fell very amounts available for ordnance, and no encour- fast. The performance, however, of the farcical agement was given to the erection of private gun factories. This had all been changed by GER has grown in popularity in spite of the the present Administration. The Woolwich establishment had been re-arranged on a more placed for guns with private firms. The completion of the orders, however, required time, and alto be seriously taken into account. His though they might hear that ships and forts were awaiting guns, they should bear in mind that it was the result of past not present policy. As regards ships he had the same explanation to offer. Sufficient time had not elepsed since the present Government came into office even to complete one of the vessels they had laid down. The in this sense, a clear victory, apparently, for vessels that had been completed this year, and the Boulangist party. Although General most of those that would be completed next year, were begun during the régime of their predecessors in office. He did not draw attention would rise to resist a Royalist restoration, to this point for the purpose of casting any disoredit on the vessels, for, undoubtedly, they were in the forefront as specimens of naval architecture and engineering skill. Ho men tioned the circumstances because many might otherwise credit them with the success or attribute to them blame for shortcomings. What they had done was to hurry forward the vessels to completion, believing that economy was best promoted and efficiency best maintained by such a policy. It was true in many instances that by this push they had overtaken the guns, but it was better to have ships complete, awaiting only their guns, than have an excessive number on the stocks unfinished, each delaying the other. He considered it better policy to lay down a moderate number of ships and comundertake a large programme of work and by doing a little to each vessel in the list spin out the time. Their policy had made their work appear less on paper than under the old system.

THEATRE ROYAL.

There was a big programme at the Theatre pany preducing Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera "The Sorcerer" and the comedy "Arathe programme was a little too long, for despite the waits being of the shortest, the curtain did not fall on the last act of "Arabian Nights" until about half-an-hour after midnight. The Company have not produced "The Sorcerer" here before, and that taken in conjunction with recent political speech, made some remarks the fact that our local amateurs played the piece very successfully, excited a good deal of curiosity should introduce nothing in the way of su as to how the Company would acquit themselves. As a whole, the piece was one of the least happy were taken by new men-of-war, and the forts of those the Company have yet given us. There was a tameness and lack of life about the production, and although there were vertain points like a complete consolidation of the Ordinance comedy, "Arabian Nights", compensated for any kind of report the Law Revision Commission failing in the opening piece. The Company have before given two very successful performances businesslike basis, and large orders had been of this piece, but nevertheless they managed to keen the house in a roar the whole time, and from the rise of the curtain to the finish there! was not a dull moment, and it was the more to be regretted therefore that owing to the perform. ance concluding at such a late hour many wore obliged to leave before the piece was finished.

In the opening piece Mr. Sheridan filled the part of John Wellington Wells, but the character was not suitable to him, and he bardly seemed comfortable in it. His make-up in the 2nd Act was hardly in keeping with the main idea, and detracted somewhat from the comic character o the rôle. Mr. Sutch made a fairly good Sir Marmaduke, but he did not make nearly enough of his duet with Lady Sangasure. His best scene was where he introduces Mrs. Partlett after both have partaken of the love philtre. Mr. Charles Fisher sang and acted well as Alexis and received hearty applause for his singing of "Love feeds on many kinds of food." Ho was also very satisfactory in his scene with Aline after she has taken the love pothe worthy vicar. The only fault about Mr. plete them in as feet months as possible than to Fisher's impersonation was his make-up, which perhaps this is almost too small a detail to complain of in what was otherwise meritorious performance. SUPPLIED TO THE "DAILY PRESS." London, 28th November.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-I have to move he second reading of a Bill entitled the Chinese Emigration Consolidation Ordinance. As this la the first of a new batch of Consolidation Orlinauces, and as some time has elaused, since the last Ordinance was considered by the Counoil. I should like to say a word or two wit reference to the scope and purpose of these Consolidation Ordinances, especially as I think there is some misapprehension as regards their object. Sir, this is one of a number of Bills, Consolidation Bills, which have been prepared by the Law Revision Commission. The intention is to colect together into one Ordinance all the provi sions relating to the subject matter, whatever it may be, that are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the sections of the Ordinances of this colony; to collect these scattered provisions ogether and form them into one Ordinance and so to exhibit the existing law in a convenient shape for reference and in a shape easily understood not only by lawyers but by laymen who may be interested in the matter. With each Con solidation Ordinance that is presented by the Law Revision Commission is a schedule which has been compiled by the Commission with a view to enable the Council to understand if they propose anything in the shape of amendment It was carefully provided against when the Law Revision Commission was originally established that in these Consolidation Ordinances the stantial amondment in the law." If substantial amendments were allowed to be made it would to impossible to pass these Consolidated Ordinances without raising adestions for debate and discussion, which would prevent anything passed within a reasonable space The report which applies to this particular Ordinance is a very good example of th will present with the others. I will the schedule, which states what portion of th existing local Ordinances are re-enacted, namel Ordinance 5 of 1876, Ordinance 1 of 1879, sections 2 to 8, and Ordinance 6 of 1879. These are th portions of the existing local Ordinances which are re-enacted in the Consolidation Act. Then follow what portions of the existing Ordinances are repealed; then what amendments are proposed in the draft Bill, in this case what portion if any of the perial Statute law is incorporated in raft Bill, none. This report, it will be is a guarantee to Council that this Bill in the strictest sense of the word, nothing more less than the reproduction of the law in a form convenient for reference and consideration. insist particularly on this point with reference o this particular Bill in view of some remarks made by His Excellency to the Council at a former meeting, in which he stated that the Go verument had under consideration and in contemplation a very substantial amendment of the laws relating to emigration. I mention this because here are several important suggestions unde consideration which will no doubt have to be considered as amendments by this Council.

Hon. J. BELL-IRVING-They are not em odied in this Bill are they? The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-No. they quite separate, these Consolidation Ordinances tion, and as a result transferred her affections to contain no amendments. The object of all these Ordinances is that they should be passed withou amendment so that no question should be raised thereon and the fact that it is intended short! was certainly not that of a grenadier guard, but to take up the emigration question and to sub stantially after and amend it is. I would suggest a strong reason and argument why should not delay the passing of the consolidation Ordinances in their present form. It will I was a fair conception of the part-but nothing found that they are simply the law as it now pose that the Committee consist of four. more. It was not nearly as good a performance as | stands exhibited in a convenient, consistent, and connected form. These remarks apply to every onsolidated Ordinance.

Hon. J. BELL-IRVING-I understand that mendments will have to be made in the law. The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-Yes, they will made upon this Ordinance, and instead of hav ing to amend portions of Ordinances here and there you will have one amended Ordin ance which may be subjected to amend ment itself. I do not know whether be allowed to read a short extract from an article in the Times which I came scross this morning. It seems to hear on these Ordinances and to point out the dahut culty that is imposed if they are taken as subjects for discussion. Every Government will think if it is sure to be made the battle-field of parties I simply read this passage to show the Council how precisely the same difficulties mentioned would occur here if Consolidation Ordinances are regarded as subject matter for contention.

like to know, after the explanation of the BILL FOR FACILITATING THE INCORPORATION Attorney General, whether it is the intention of the Government to bring in the Amended Ordinance at once, as I think the Bill should be discussed and amended by the mercantile community. The Attorney General has told us that this Ordinance is simply to consolidate the law, but the heading of the Bill says "consolidate and amend the law."

The Attorney-General—I think it would be botter if the words "amend the law" were left out Hon. B. LATTON-That alters the whole thing The ATTORNEY GENERAL-I think it was an inadvertance on the part of the Law Revision Commission that the words are left in the title because they say in their report there are no amendments. Hon, B. LAYTON—It alters the whole thing if these words are left out. It is then simply the same Ordinances as we have already but collected together. I understand ; but is it not somewhat strange that now we have this Ordinance we should be unable to criticise it and make amendments. I think we should ask when the Government intend to bring in this other Or-

Hon. B. LARTON—The subject of emigration is a very serious one, and we are very anxious to get at it, so to speak, and the sooner the better There are a number of matters at present which press heavily both on the Chinese and shippers here, and when I read that this Ordinance was to amend the law. I presumed it was a new Or dinance. I think the New Ordinance should be brought in as soon as possible. His EXCELLENCY—I am sure there will be no unnecessary delay. With regard to the other matter it is very necessary to pass this Consolidation Ordinauce so that the Council and the Colony should know what the law is at the present moment. It is possible to proceed when that is done. With regard to emigration think we can safely promise that the Emigration Ordinance will be brought forward shortly, and also safely say that the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies interested will have full opportunity of considering it.

The Bill was then read a second time. The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-In the ordinary course we should now refer the Bill to a Com mittee of the whole Council, but this being on of the Consolidation Ordinances it contains a large amount of matter which will take a considerable time to go through, and as no amendments can be made during that process I should suggest that it could be more conveniently done my explanation. by referring the Bill to a small select committee so that the time of the Council generally will not

Hon. B. LAYTO .- It seems rather absurd to go through what cannot be altered. What The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-Nothing beyond re-numbering of paragraphs, but it must be done. It is a matter of form. If the Bill is referred to a small committee it will save the time of the Council. I would suggest that the Council refer the Bill to a few gentlemen who are willing to give attention to the matter for some little time. I should pro-

as it is simply renumbering of paragraphs, it is rather a waste of time unless absolutely necessary His EXCELLENCY-I think if the hon, member would take this view, that it is absolutely necessary to go through the Bill and if it is not referred to a select Committee it will be necessarv for the whole Council to go through it he would perhaps be willing to sit. I am sure it would be done more satisfactorily, or at any rate edition of the Statutes and the Statute Law as satisfactorily by a select Committee as by the whole Council.

It was then agreed to refer the Bill to the Select Committee proposed by the Attorney-

THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND. TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." DEAR SIR, - s you have already, published the interested public to the following points:-Will the Colonial Government of Hongkong through its School Department, undertake to educate the youth who are blind or deaf if experienced and trustworthy teachers can be secured The blind can learn much by giving attention to the oral instruction of seeing classes; therefore it is for that reason desirable that their class-rooms should adjoin those of the seeing pupils. The additional instruction of these "deprived" children in trades is a duty we owe them. As it is probable that the majority of those who would be candidates for such schools are too poor to feed and clothe themselves, there surely are benevolent people who would undertake to support a number of these indigent youth at the comparatively small sum per head requisite to feed them. There are teachers willing to come to Hongkong who already have become enthusiastic in dear chosen life work of teaching the defective. It remains for some citizens in Hongkong to signify what they are willing to do in the matter. It seems a pity that as the years roll on and so much effort and treasure is expended upon the destructive pleasures of men that the young who from no fault of their own are deprived of sight or hearing should be left with no effort to relief their distress and make it a blessing to them and their philanthropic patrons. > NOW ON SALE. IMPERIAL QUARTO. PINGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN Pronunciation. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at

Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises WHARF and TSIM-TSA-TSUI at the following for students of a most instructive nature. Both hours :- This Time Table will take effect from the Court and Runti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16.000 * There will be no Launch on Monday and Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English The above Time Table will be strictly adhered this work contains more than 50,000 English to, except under unavoidable circumstances. In words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characcase of stress of weather, due notice will be ters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which

For practical purposes the arrangement of CARRIER DOVE, Brit. bk., A. Forsyth.—Order. pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect themselves it explains subjects fully with which
